

DONALD E. FAZEKAS, B.S., M.Ed., J.D.

Serving as the Corporate Counsel and Litigation Support Services Manager for Security Management Consultants, Inc., Donald “Danny” has over thirty five (35) years experience both as a law enforcement officer and as an attorney at law.

Danny is a former law enforcement supervisor stationed in Georgia and Alabama. During his career he received extensive training in criminal investigation. Based on his competency, Danny was selected as a training instructor for the Montgomery Alabama Regional Law Enforcement Academy.

Danny was honored as being the first police officer to be chosen to attend the prestigious United States Air Force Academic Instructor Training Program.

In 1977, Danny was the team leader for a pilot governmental program for the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. He has testified before members of congress on issues of transportation safety and security. Danny supervised numerous felony investigations and has extensive experience in reconstructing crime scenes.

Danny is currently a licensed attorney in Alabama. He is licensed to practice before all Alabama trial and appellate courts.

In 1995, Danny was appointed as a special prosecutor on select cases. Danny has comprehensive experience as both a civil and criminal litigator. He has represented individuals, corporations, and government agencies.

During his career Danny has consulted with numerous expert witnesses on all types of litigation. He is conversant with law, policy and procedure as it pertains to surveillance, employee background investigations, corporate investigations, and physical security.

Danny has been a guest speaker at various educational institutions, government functions and civic organizations. Additionally, he has served on various committees dealing with issues of personal and premises safety.