

JEFFERY MATTOX

A U.S. Air Force Colonel with over 24 years experience in the Intelligence field, Jeffery has a distinguished career as consultant in counter-terrorism, threat assessments, crisis management, and security, worldwide. As a senior military leader, he has provided national-level crisis intelligence and assessments to the Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff (CJCS), Secretary of Defense, the White House and Congress. Jeffery has an experienced practitioner's knowledge of the customs and protocols of international business, police, and military entities. His operational experience includes assignments with the Defense Intelligence Agency, National Security Agency, FBI, and state and local police agencies.

In 2002, Jeff was selected as an Anti-Terrorism Coordinator with the Department of Justice (DOJ) and has been a full-time member of the FBI's Joint Terrorism Task Force for the past five years. A recognized authority in law enforcement "Active Shooter" tactics, he has provided training to numerous police agencies throughout the nation. Jeffery's unique skills and background have made him a highly sought after security consultant on topics including intelligence, emergency response and crisis management, physical security, and counter-terrorism.

Jeffery has lectured throughout the world and provided intelligence/counter-terrorism training to senior executives and to federal, state, and local law enforcement agencies. He is a National Fusion Center Team Leader for the Department of Justice and an Executive Steering Committee Member for Alabama's Fusion Center. He is a member of the Alabama Bio-Terrorism and Public Health Advisory Council. He has received numerous awards and recognition from the military and DOJ including the Department of Justice Director's Award for Outstanding Intelligence Support and the National Military Intelligence Major General Jack E. Thomas Award- the military's highest Intelligence award. He holds a Master of Business Administration degree in Strategic Leadership.